

“Not Another Powerpoint!” How to Become an Effective Presenter Using Universal Design

Friday, October 29

12:00-1:30 p.m.

Hall of Languages 114

Lunch Provided Courtesy of the Graduate Student Organization!

Putting together the pieces with Universal Instructional Design!

Learn how to maximize your conference and teaching experience by designing presentations that can be accessed by a broader spectrum of audience members.

This hands-on workshop will enable you to use principles of Universal Instructional Design (UID) to reach potential students/audience members with a broad range in ability, age, reading level, learning style, native language, race, ethnicity, and other characteristics.

Presenter Liat Ben-Moshe is a doctoral candidate and instructor in Sociology, Disability Studies, and Women's Studies. She is currently the coordinator of SU's Disability Culture Center initiative.

RSVP to Shawn Krause-Loner
scloner@yahoo.com
by October 26

